

Mid-South Information: Bulletin of the Mid-South Chapter

FALL 2009

Volume 32, Number 1

Minutes of the Mid-South Chapter Executive Board Meeting September 3, 2009

The Executive Board of the Mid-South Chapter of SLA met on Thursday, September 3, 2009 at 11:30 a.m. at Schering-Plough. In attendance were: Octavia Ashby, Kay Cunningham, Maureen Fitzer, Donna Foster, Rosemary Nelms, Jan Smith and Pam Walker.

Donna prefaced a discussion of the meeting schedule for the year by reporting on training sponsored by MALC on September 24 which will include information on EBSCO A-Z, a new federated search.

A desire for more collaboration between MALC and SLA, particularly in regard to training and education, grew out of a survey taken by members of MALC and SLA following the Joint Meeting in April.

Members felt that the money spent on catering would be better employed in providing professional development opportunities for the two organizations. One possibility might be to have vendors speak to our groups; Donna mentioned the Copyright Clearance Center as an example. Also officers from MALC and SLA have planned a program on Oct. 15 which will be an overview of social networking as it applies to libraries and research. Then every other month, a different module relating to this subject would be presented; some topics: blogs; YouTube, Facebook, MySpace, LinkedIn; RSS feeds, Twitter, mashups.

A discussion of the Mid-South Chapter 2009-2010 schedule followed. Meetings were tentatively scheduled on Thursdays on the following dates: Oct. 1, Dec. 3, Jan. 28 (membership meeting), March 25, April ? (joint meeting?), May 27 (charity meeting), Aug. 27 (board meeting).

It was decided that most of the scheduled meetings would be lunch meetings for social interaction and networking and that we would have two business meetings, one in the fall and one in the spring – dates to be announced, online on Interwise, so that members in other locations could participate easily. TLA will meet in Memphis in 2010; this conference should offer some training and networking possibilities.

Octavia reported on the SLA Alignment project which has occupied the national office of SLA since 2007. Some suggestions for changes (like a different name for the organization) arising from the research will be presented to local chapters later.

Donna reported on her SLA Conference experience (she particularly enjoyed programs on Twitter use by news media and mashup use in libraries.) She has been talking to Mary Ellen Bates since the conference about Bates' networking presentation. Kay mentioned a collaboration workshop that she had found helpful. Donna also thought we would benefit from hearing Tony report to our group about what he learned at the national meeting.

The Board Meeting was followed by a visit to the Schering-Plough company store.

MALC Program: "Internet Skills for the Digital Century"

Make plans to participate in "Internet Skills for the Digital Century" on Thursday 15 October 2009 at 4pm, expertly facilitated by Amy Poe, the staff development coordinator at First Regional Library. This event should be the first of many on the topic of Web 2.0, social networking resources, and the implications for libraries.

Space is limited, so please RSVP to Bess Robinson at merobnsn@memphis.edu (or call her at 901.678.8206) to reserve your seat. Prepare to be interactive.

Another in the series of fine programs brought to you by the Memphis Area Library Council (MALC).

Call for Papers "Entering SLA's Next Century: Let the Good Times Roll" Success stories in action!

SLA Contributed Papers: An opportunity to share your knowledge!

How are you putting your hard work into action? How are you using the long-planned, expertly-vetted, SME-approved technologies in your library? How are your users responding to these new services?

If you have a success story to tell your colleagues, we would love to hear it! SLA is now accepting proposals for papers to be presented at its 2010 Annual Conference in the "Southern and Soulful City" of New Orleans, Louisiana, with the theme "Entering SLA's Next Century: Let the Good Times Roll!" Accepted papers will also be published on the SLA Web site.

Every SLA member is eligible and encouraged to apply. Proposals will be evaluated by a panel of SLA members in a blind review, and the best will be selected for development into full papers, which are due 7 May 2010.

Requirements for Acceptance

Paper topics should be related to library science, information management, research or other issues related to customer service, technology, or administration in special libraries. Proposals will be judged on their relevance to the conference theme, "Let the Good Times Roll", as well on the strength of the idea, quality of the writing, and potential member interest.

Special Libraries Association assumes no responsibility for the statements and opinions advanced by the contributors to the Association's publications. Acceptance of an advertisement does not imply endorsement of the product by the Special Libraries Association.

Proposed papers must also meet these requirements:

- At least one author is a member of SLA.
- At least one author commits to presenting the paper at the annual conference.
- The proposal is received by the deadline.
- The paper has not been published in or submitted to any other publication or conference planning group.
- The author (and any co-authors) must be willing to sign a copyright assignment form that will permit SLA to use the paper in various formats.

Full guidelines, including formatting instructions, are available at www.sla.org/content/Events/conference/ac2008/Conference/callforpapers/guidelines.cfm.

Deadlines

Proposals due: Submit an abstract of your paper via e-mail to chris.mulready@boeing.com no later than 18 December 2009. Abstracts should be 250-300 words in length, which is roughly one page in 12-point text.

Papers selected: Between 12 and 15 proposals will be chosen for development into papers. All applicants will be notified of a decision on 29 January 2010.

Papers due: Authors submit their completed paper and copyright assignment to SLA no later than 7 May 2010.

Papers presented: Authors will deliver a 15-minute presentation of their papers (along with three to four other authors) during a 90-minute session at the SLA 2010 Annual Conference, 13-15 June 2010.

We look forward to your submissions and to hearing how you have broken rules and built bridges in the information profession!
